

The Vengeant Loft

Privacy:

Each guest during their stay has rights to privacy in the bedroom, restrooms and bathing area. Common areas like main entrances, parking lots, offices, kitchen, living room, dining area, conference room, shop areas, hallways can be video monitored and recorded. Voice recording is prohibited in all areas of the facility unless a notification is displayed near the camera that advises otherwise.

Conduct:

All guests shall be professional and be courteous while enjoying their stay. No alcoholic beverages are allowed on the property. Outside food and beverages are welcomed. At the end of every stay all items will be discarded.

Belongings:

All personal property is at the risk of the property owner. Vengeant is not responsible for lost or stolen items. Any items found after departure will be held for 5 business days after notification has been made to the property owner. If needed, shipping is available to return items at the cost of the property owner.

Damages:

Before and after the inspection report will be completed. Any damage after the visit will be the responsibility of the guest to reimburse for repair. Vengeant will determine the most affordable and efficient way to repair those damages.

Cleanliness:

Prior and after your stay the loft will be cleaned; new towels and bedding will be provided. If you need more towels during your stay please ask an employee.

Ride At Your Own Risk:

The fire pole is at your own risk. If you have prior or current injuries related but not limited to your neck, back, feet, legs or hips you should not use the fire pole. Know that using the fire pole without proper instruction will result in injury, if not death. After instruction is taught you should still understand accidents can occur which could relate to injury or death.

Vengeant is not responsible for any injury during your stay.

Fire or Emergency:

In the event of a fire please know your escape routes. There is a door located in the back bedroom, stairs that exit the front of the building and the fire pole which exits at the front doors.
